But we shall be interested in seeing what our Democratic fellow-citizens, who have so unreservedly, not to say hastily, committed themselves to the supports of the President, will have to say of his requirements. They have maintained that we have no right to impose any conditions on a rebel State, except those specially described in the Constitution. When the State had organized and sent its members elect to Congress, the doors of the capitol were to swing open to them as to the members elect of any Northern State. But pray, where do those strict constructionists find any authority for the President's course in respect to the rebel debt and the anti-slavery amendment? According to the doctrines they have been so vigorously preaching, if he had no right to require New Jersey to adopt the amendment, then he has no right to move and the promptly reory.

We shall be no little surprised if we do not very soon see a change of tactics. Just now there is an ominous lull—a neither praise nor blame silence-such as precedes a veer ing round on a new tack. And if he has no right to require Florida to do that, he has no right to insist that she and other States shall repudiate their rebel debts. We must, therefore, expect to hear from them severe condemnation of the policy of the President. Now that the elections are over and our democratic brethren have missed their figure so badly, they will be inclined to return to their position has tyear and throughout the war. SANITABLY PREGAUTIONS.

Mayor Wallach has promptly reorganized the Board of Health, and a thorough sanitary inspection of the city is being made. In 1882 the cholera broke out here on the Sth of August, and continued its ravages until the Sth of October, raging with the greatest furly about the middle of September. There were about one thousand cases, of whice five hundred were fatal. All classes and colors were alike afflicted, but some localities were exempt, while in others nearly every resident was stricken down.

The ELECTION NEWS.

THE ELECTION NEWS.

The Union men are jubilant, to-day, especially Mr. Seward's friends, who have especial reason to feel joyful over the returns from New York, as telegraphed by Thurlow Weed. Montgomery Blair arrived here yesterday, confident that the Democrats would carry the State. To-day he has not been seen, but is probably moralizing on the uncertainty of political calculations. The Cabinet has a fresh lease, news is but barely alluded to, as if the result was "nothing to nobody," and least of all to the democracy. This neutrality will not long continue, so look out for that which we shall see.

As far as our observation goes, the Northern pictorial papers are unantimously enlisted in the cause of radicious and the conservative North, and their illustrated pages abound in earlicatures of the same malignant tendency.—Richmond Times.

Nothing seems to aggravate the rebel newspapers so much as the fact that most of the writers and speakers in the North were against them during the war, and that their influence with the North was all paramount. Harper's Weekly especially is a thorn in their side that they will never be recomifed to. Its pictorials and tits editorials were a power in the loyal North, as they are to-day, that told like a continual raking fire of grape and cannister at short range on the rebel cause. Hewas one of the civilized appliances of war that the South could not bring to bear and stood out perpetually like a figure hand, indicating the vast difference in the sources of the two sections.

The recent ministerial change in the sappointment of Earl Russell, there are already indications of defection in certain quarters, which may be regarded as anguries of fixture schlams and allensions of a more extended and active character than now appear on the surface.

The New York Times ventures to say that if three thing are done, not 60 yoles will be given in congress against restoring to the Southern States their equality in the Union:

"It never your probabilities and the promiting of the Southern States their equality in the Union:

"It never your probabilities and your paper will testify." It is the same press to the surface.

WARRINGTON, NOV. B.

THE THIAL OF PAYE.

On the day after I gave the the proyability of the strength of th in the opinion of the Chief Justice, would be too short a term for the transaction of any important business. But the Chief Justice adds that were the facts otherwise, he so much doubts the propriety of holding the Circuit Courts of the United States in States which have been declared by the Executive and Legislative departments of the National Government to be in rebellion, and, therefore, subjected to martial law, before the complete restoration of these broken relations with the nation, and the supersedure of the military by the civil administration, that he would be unwilling to hold such Courts in such States within his Circuit—which includes Virginia—until Congress shall have had an opportunity to consider and act on the whole subject. The Chief Justice expresses to the President the opinion that a civil court, in a district under martial law, can only act by the sanction and under the supervision of the military power, and he positively asserts that he could not think that the becomes the Justices of the Supreme Court oexercise jurisdiction under such conditions.

How a Rich Man in New York Became Very Rich.

Some ton or affecen years ago one of our Fifth avenue nabobs who, even then, was reckoned among our millionaires, was forced to compound with a debtor by taking a large lot of unimproved property, lying far out of town, toward Harlem River, at a valuation of $125,000 or thereabout. At the time, and for several subsequent years, Mr. Lenox, (for he is the gentleman to whom I refer,) considered himself victimized in this matter, but patience was permitted to have her perfect work; the city grew in a northerly direction, not being able to expand toward any other point of the compass; improvements were improvised on every hand; projects seemingly vissionary and extravagant were constantly broached and carried into execution; among other schemes concocted for the beautifying of the metropolis, was that of a magnificent. Control Park. nificent Central Park, the locale of which was in the vicinity of this wild land of Mr. Lenox. Alas, for the opinions and misglyings of ten years agone. Mr. Lenox has been offered repeatedly for his $125,000 parcel, an advance of a million dollars, and has refused as often to accept any such proposition, until now, with the park almost completed, and its vicinage already marked out as the future hot-bed of metropolitan fashion and luxury, the once despised plat of scrubby, unsurveyed ground, may be safely estimated to be worth little short of three million dollars. What wonder that a man, whose property has thus compounded itself over and over again while he slept, should occasionalwonder that a man, whose property has thus compounded itself over and over again while he slept, should occasionally astonish the public by his lavish liberality to Princeton college or the Bible Society; or that he should own the best and most costly collection of Bibles on this continent, or, perhaps, in the world? The only wonder is that he isso modent, so charitable, so refined, so Christian a man at all, amid his heaps of wealth.

Hon, Schuyler Colfax to Lecture in Wheeling.
From the Fairmont National.

Wheeling.

From the Eurmont National.

We learn from good authority that Hon. Schuyler Colfax is to lecture in Wheeling on the evening of the 15th inst., for the benefit of the "Wheeling Library Association." We should assuredly do ourself the pleasure of hearing him, but for other engagements. But our court coming on in an adjoining county at that time, we shall be compelled to forego that pleasure. But we say to every lady and gentleman who is capable of appreciating a literary and oratorical effort of that kind, by all means go and hear Mr. Colfax. We consider him second to no man in this nation, as a chaste, clear, argumentative and instructive public lecturer. We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Colfax in Lebanon, Illinois, in 1860, when he delivered one of the finest speeches we ever listened to. Mr. C. is a small man in bodily appearance; but he is all man. He is to be our next President.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 1 o'clock from the residence of the parents on the Island. Friends of the family are invited to attend.
